Locomotion by Jacqueline Woodson | List Poem

Name: _____ Date: _____

Class: _____

Locomotion writes a list poem—a poem that lists all the things on his body. Write your own list poem. Begin by listing all the things you wear or have with you right now. Then go back and add descriptive words—adjectives or adverbs—to each item. When you are finished, write your own list poem on a separate sheet of paper. You may want to reorder your list before you write your final poem. Your poem should end with your name.
